Eisenhower Vetoes Second Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower vetoed the second-try billion-dollar housing bill Friday as far too costly and once again the Senate upheld his veto.

The vote was 58 to override and 36 to sustain the veto. This was five votes shy of the two-thirds needed to override. It was Eisenhower's 145th veto; he has never been overridden.

The margin compared with the 55-40 vote on Aug. 12 to override Eisenhower's veto of a more costly bill, estimated at $1,375,000. That margin was nine votes short.

Friday's veto was on a bill trimmed to $1,050,000,000 by its sponsors' estimate and amounting to a potential $1,769,000,000 by the administration's figuring.

The Senate vote made House action unnecessary.

Message
Eisenhower said, in a veto message rushed here from Paris:

"Clearly this bill, like its predecessor, goes too far.

"It calls for the spending of more than 1 1/2 billion of taxpayers' dollars for housing and related programs over and above the vast expenditures to which the federal government is already committed for these purposes."

The debate on whether to override was tinged with bitterness.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), the Democrats' number one man on housing, declared before the vote was taken that if the veto were not overridden, "it is my earnest judgment that there will be no housing bill this year."

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM), asked why Sparkman and other backers of the legislation kept on including items the President won't approve — "why keep bumping into a stone wall?"

"We've met him more than half way," Sparkman said. He added he felt at times a sense of absolute futility in trying to do business with Eisenhower on housing.

On the other hand, Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), said Eisenhower refused to accept "bad things in a good package and I commend him for it."

Eisenhower's veto message singled out two new programs proposed by the bill "at a time when critical national needs heavily burden federal finances as certain to 'cost huge sums in the future.'"

One would have the federal government make direct loans to colleges for classrooms and related facilities and equipment.

Cuban Army Member Loses United States Citizenship

AT THE request of Rep. Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat, the State Department has revoked the United States citizenship of William Morgan, a major in the Cuban Army.

The action was taken at the request of Walter, chairman of the subcommittee on immigration and nationality of the Committee on the Judiciary, under provisions of the Walter-McCarran Act. Walter, in his request to the State Department, pointed out that Morgan had accepted mercenary service in the intelligence and military establishments of one or two foreign countries, thus falling within provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act. He also pointed out that Morgan never secured a special authorization from the Secretary of State under which a U. S. citizen could be permitted to serve in the armed forces of a foreign country.

Shortway Location Set

New Section To Stretch 21 Miles

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Highways Department Friday revealed the location of a 21-mile stretch of the Keystone Shortway in Union, Northumberland and Montour counties.

At the same time it announced that a public hearing on the location will be held in Milton Sept. 24 at the high school.

It will be the second section of the superhighway to be put under construction. The first, a smaller section, now is under construction in the western end of Jefferson County.

The 300-mile Shortway, when completed, will cross the northern part of the state from Sharon in the west to the Penn-Can Highway, near Stroudsburg, in the east. It is to be part of the federal interstate system.

Official Route
The highways department said the second section will follow this route: starting 1.4 miles west of White Deer Dam, easterly along the north side of White Deer Creek Valley to an intersection with a legislative route (629); southeasterly to a proposed interchange with U.S. 15 and across the Susquehanna River approximately 8 miles north of New Columbia, into Northumberland County.

From Turbot Twp. in Northumberland, southeasterly into Liberty Twp., Montour County, crossing Limestone Run for the intersection of Route 254 and township road 586; along the northern boundary of Mooresburg, then east through Valley Twp.; northerly and approximately parallel with Route 642 to an interchange at Route 54, 6 mile north of Maudsland.

One single bridge and 13 twin bridges will be included in the section. The Susquehanna River crossing will be over twin bridges, 1,650 feet long.

Besides the U.S. 15 and Maudsland interchanges, there will be interchanges at the intersections with Routes 14 and 254.

Summer's last long weekend—the Labor Day holiday—put millions of Americans on the move Friday night.

Travelers jammed highways, buses, trains and airliners for a last outing before settling down for another year of school or work. Labor Day traditionally marks the close of the summer vacation season.

Highways in the Pocono Mountains became jammed early last night.

The National Safety Council estimated the heavy highway travel might kill 450 motorists and pedestrians during the peak driving period running from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday in all time zones.

In comparison, only 307 persons died in motor crashes throughout the nation in a corresponding period of 78 hours of a nonholiday weekend two weeks ago. The Associated Press surveyed that weekend to reach a figure against which to gauge the impact of holiday traffic.

Patterson-Kelley Firm Makes Largest Blender

THE world's largest dry ingredients blender is nearing completion at the Patterson-Kelley firm in East Stroudsburg.

The blender, shaped somewhat like a "V" between two posts, is about 40 feet high, made of stainless steel and is powered at between three and four revolutions-per-minute by a fifty-horsepower motor.

The dry ingredients are fed into the top of the blender and the mechanism turns to thoroughly mix the matter into a uniform blend.

J. J. Fischer, designer and inventor of the principle under which the blender works, said yesterday the machines are getting bigger each year.

Just when the blenders would reach their maximum size, Fischer did not say.

The huge machine nearly completed at the firm's plant just off Lackawanna Ave., East Stroudsburg, will go to the Koppers Co., in Pittsburgh, to be used to mix the dry ingredients going into the manufacture of polystyrene plastics. These are termed "rigid" plastics as opposed to the polyethylene plastics which are softer.

The firm built the blender in record time, Fischer said. The normal time allotted for its construction was 20 weeks, and the plant will have the machine ready for shipment in a total of 12 weeks.

Large blenders, though, are not the only blender products made by Patterson-Kelley. Small blenders, down to a capacity of one-eighth cubic foot also of stainless steel and for laboratory work, are also made at the plant. The large blender, nearing completion, will have a capacity of 1,700 cubic feet.

Fischer said to estimate what a cubic foot would be, one should imagine that the average bag of cement is one cubic foot. The mechanism was designed by the engineering staff of the firm, and is patented by Patterson-Kelley.

In addition, the firm makes vacuum driers, used in high pressure drying work by pharmaceutical work.

Committee Approves Tax On Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee Friday approved the House-passed bill raising the federal gasoline tax from 3 to 4 cents a gallon to keep the nation's road-building program going.

The only change the committee made in the measure was to change the effective date of the tax increase to Oct. 1 this year. The House bill carried an effective date of Sept. 1.

The penny-a-gallon increase would be in force until July 1, 1961.

Alternatives Rejected
Before approving the bill, the committee rejected five alternative financing solutions offered by its members.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said some of these would be pressed when the measure is taken up in the Senate, probably early next week. Gore opposes the gas tax increase, preferring instead his plan to divert a portion of all appropriations to the highway program.

The higher gas tax would yield an estimated one billion dollars more for construction work on the projected 41,000-mile network of superhighways.

The Senate group voted on the bill after a one-day hearing in which Eisenhower administration officials accepted the bill although they objected to some of its provisions.

Repayment Ordered

DOYLESTOWN (AP) — R. Chapman Carver of Ivyland, Bucks County, was ordered by court to repay $24,050 he collected in salary and fees while a member of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission Friday.

House Committee Votes To Risk Second 'Works' Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee voted defiantly Friday to risk another veto of the congressionally cherished public works bill.

It recommended that Congress send President Eisenhower a new bill, slightly reduced in cost but including every one of the 67 projects that caused him to veto the original measure Aug. 28.

This veto really hurt because the legislation provides for hundreds of local construction projects, most of them river and harbor and flood control works that help make a congressman look good to the voters.

Action Upheld
The House upheld the first veto Wednesday, by a one-vote margin.

The committee action upset House leaders plans to send Eisenhower a bill without the 67 projects he objected to. His objections were based on the grounds that they had not been budgeted and would cost an eventual $800 million dollars. The committee voted this plan down 20-16.

It is possible that the House may in turn upset the committee action when it considers the bill Saturday or next week.

Compromise Carries By 352-52 Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a lopsided vote of 352-52, the House Friday passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill fulfilling his demand for stern measures to fight racketeering in labor unions.

Thus ended a battle that raged over two congressional sessions and saw some of the most intense lobbying ever conducted by union and management groups. The compromise passed the Senate 95-2 Thursday night.

On the final House vote, 214 Democrats and 138 Republicans voted for passage. Opposed were 51 Democrats and a single Republican—Rep. Paul A. Fino of New York.

To the bitter end, House members argued over whether the compromise—patterned along the lines of the original House bill—is a union-buster.

Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich.), co-author of the original House measure, told the House the compromise "is a bill which will permit honest unions to grow."

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee said the compromise, as fashioned by a Senate-House conference committee, "will be approved by the American people, and it's going to be approved by the labor rank and file."

But Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif.), who unsuccessfully sponsored a bill backed by the AFL-CIO in an earlier stage of the fight, denounced the compromise as "skulduggery perpetrated by those who over the years have fought labor."

Rep. Roy W. Wier (D-Minn.) said "it is an antiunion bill, call it what you will."

Labor union leaders fought the original House bill and opposed the milder Senate version as well. And they are unhappy about the compromise, although it contains some things organized labor has sought. They contend it does not meet their test of anticorruption legislation without antilabor provisions.

Much of the impetus for this new labor control legislation came from Senate racket investigations which centered largely on the activities of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

After the House completed action on the bill Friday, Hoffa put out a statement saying: "The labor bill is the biggest hoax ever put across on the American worker. It claims to deal with corruption, but in fact it is primarily aimed at destroying the hard-won rights of American labor to win and maintain a decent standard of living."

Little Doubt
There is little, if any, doubt that Eisenhower will sign the compromise, which comes close to his recommendations for strict labor control measures to cope with union corruption.

The bill as sent to the White House spells out new safeguards for the rights of union members, requirements for financial reporting by unions and employers, measures intended to insure democratic elections in unions, and other provisions aimed at preventing labor leaders from abusing their offices.

It also bans secondary boycotts in labor disputes, outlaws what is termed blackmail picketing, and restricts the practice of organizational picketing.

On another important point, it sets up a way for states to handle labor disputes that the National Labor Relations Board refuses to consider. These disputes, falling in between federal and state jurisdiction in the past, have been called "no-man's land" cases.

Among other developments: 1. A rightist political leader of Nepal, Rana Mithendra, charged that Red Chinese agents are infiltrating that neighboring kingdom by posing as Tibetan refugees. He said their assignment is to distribute Communist literature and combat the sympathy of Nepalese tribesmen for Tibetans.

2. Kushak Bakul, Indian Kashmir's minister for the affairs of Ladakh province, declared in Srinagar that the Chinese Communists have fixed November "for a frontier area first invaded by Chinese patrols in 1957."

3. From Leh, the Ladakh province capital, came a report that the Chinese are building bases, including airports, at the Tibetan towns of Rudok and Gartok.

Rocket Ship Test Halted

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Mechanical trouble Friday forced cancellation of a second attempt to fly an X15 rocket ship on its own power.

A device regulating the flow of a propellant to the engines failed four minutes before the 50-foot-long black arrow was to cut loose from its mother ship.

Interest Rate Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Friday passed a bill allowing the Treasury to increase the rate on "E" and "H" savings bonds from 3 1/4 to 3 3/4 percent.

U. N. Preparing For Sessions

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld Friday night started setting up a U. N. Security Council session Sunday or Monday on Laos' request for emergency force against Communist aggression.

A U. N. spokesman announced the action a bit over seven hours after Laos officially accused Communist North Viet Nam of aggression and asked for a U. N. force to stop it.

Hammarskjöld acted in Rio De Janeiro, where he stopped midway of a hurried flight back to New York from a curtailed South American tour.

He dealt with the 11-nation council through his American executive assistant, Andrew W. Cordier.

Correspondents
The spokesman met correspondents shortly after 5 p. m. and told them: "The secretary general cabled from Rio before his departure instructing his executive assistant, Mr. Cordier, formally to approach the president of the Security Council, suggesting that the president consult with his colleagues on the council with a view to calling a meeting of the council Sunday or Monday."

The council president this month is Ambassador Egidio Ortuna of Italy.

"Mr. Cordier talked with Ambassador Ortuna a half hour ago on the telephone," the spokesman said, "and is sending him a letter confirming the conversation."

Foreign Minister Khamphan Panya submitted Laos' request to Hammarskjöld through the Laotian delegation. He asked "the appropriate procedure against actions of the Ho Chi Minh regime, which is not a U. N. member."

Hammarskjöld, visiting Brazil, arranged to fly back to New York overnight. He will arrive late Saturday, 24 hours earlier than the scheduled window of his two-week South American tour.

Without Opposition
Feldmann, 49-year-old Hazleton, Pa., attorney, was unopposed for the top VFW office.

Also chosen without opposition were T. C. Connell, Killen, Tex., senior vice commander; Robert E. Hansen, South St. Paul, Minn., junior vice commander; Robert B. Handy Jr., Kansas City, Mo., quartermaster general; Dr. William E. Moody, Scottsville, Va., surgeon general, and the Rev. Patrick J. Nooney, Carroll, Iowa, national chaplain.

Judge Advocate
Byron B. Gentry, Pasadena, Calif., was named judge advocate general. His opponent, John F. Choffey of Cleveland, Ohio, withdrew and moved that Gentry's election be made unanimous.

Mrs. James Rhind of Wilmington, Del., stepped up from first vice president to presidency of the VFW ladies auxiliary. She succeeds Belle Myers of Great Bend, Kan.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Paternalism In Politics

A piece of special class legislation which we hope the State Senate will see fit to kill in a hurry is House Bill 2289, which would add 71 miles of Philadelphia streets to the state highway system.

The House passed the measure this week, 141-55, with all the opposition coming from the Republican members.

The bill provides for the state to take over the maintenance and repair of 35 miles of existing streets in Philadelphia and also commits the state to eventual construction of some 36 miles of expressways, many of which will be along present Philadelphia thoroughfares.

Rep. Harry Comer (D-Phila.), chairman of the House Highways Committee and sponsor of the bill, said that of seven projects now on the drafting board, six would be financed by a 50-50 arrangement between city and state, while one would be on a 90-10 basis.

He said the expressways, toward which construction the state would contribute $232,200,000, would be completed in from 10 to 15 years.

Lawrence Administration leaders right now are pressuring for all the funds they can lay their hands on to finance the state's share of the federal highway program for all parts of the Commonwealth.

If, as Secretary Park Martin says, the state is hard pressed to find the money it needs for the existing network of highways, how can the Administration justify the addition of 71 miles of roads to that network at this time? Especially when the highways are in heavily populated, built-up areas where construction and maintenance costs are much greater than elsewhere.

Why, may we ask, must the rest of Pennsylvania be deprived of its rightful share of highways funds just so Philadelphia can be relieved of the responsibility for 71 miles of streets?

We're happy to learn that the Comer bill has aroused considerable opposition among rural Republican legislators in the Senate. We implore that body to follow through with those sentiments and consign the measure to the ash heap.

Opinions Of Other Editors

The Competitors

The consumer price index—which some of us are old enough to remember was called the high cost of living when it was only half as high as now—reached record heights in July. The average cost of living is up almost 25% over what it was just about 10 years ago.

Inflated prices in the Labor Department's July index appeared highest in the so-called service charges—cost of such things as haircuts, shoeshines, TV repairs, paint jobs, home repairs, dental care and so forth.

What the July consumer price index reflected, however, was also the price of everything the service people themselves buy—including haircuts, shoeshines, TV repairs, paint jobs, home repairs, dental care and so forth, as well as food, autos, appliances and clothes.

When everybody has to pay more for whatever they themselves consume, it's only natural for them to make up the difference when they can by charging more for what they sell or do. In the end, after circling around, even the professional economists must come back to the starting point. The increased costs of production of goods.

One of the biggest reasons production of goods is so high is that Government spends so much of the taxpayers' money for so many things. For example, the Federal civilian payroll for the fiscal year that ended June 30 for the first time in history reached $12 billion a year. This money, taken from the taxpayers and used to pay people many of whose sole duties are spending more of the taxpayers' funds, is also spent for available goods and services.

Thus it goes, and there is little likelihood that haircuts and home repairs will stop going higher so long as the Government insists on spending so much of its citizens' money in competition with its own citizens.

Reports From Congress

Spending By Lobbies

By Congressional Quarterly
Washington—Lobbies reported spending almost $2 million to influence Congress during the first half of this year.

A Congressional Quarterly analysis shows that 249 organizations reported they spent $1,877,802 on lobbying in the January-June period.

The top spender was the Mutual Life Insurance Companies, Temporary Committee on Taxation, which reported spending $38,142. It was one of five life insurance trade associations which reported spending a total of $166,988 on pressure activities. Much of this activity was for modification of a bill, signed by the President June 25, to prescribe a formula for taxing the income of insurance companies.

Business Leads List—The life insurance companies belong to the business category of lobbyists, which tops five other categories for pressure spending this year so far. A total of 137 business groups reported spending $855,538. The other categories broken down by CQ are employee and labor, citizens, farm, military and veterans, and professional.

Labor groups came next to business in 1959 spending with a total of $396,265 reported spent by 31 employee and labor groups. The giant AFL-CIO topped this category with reported spending of $65,604, making it second spender among all 249 organizations reporting.

Much of both business and labor expense was directed at the hot labor reform bill in Congress this year.

High-Cost Lobbying—Other big spenders: National Education Association, $56,312; American Steamship Committee on Conference States, $54,563; Southern States Industrial Council, $51,608; American Farm Bureau Federation, $49,611; U. S. Savings and Loan League, $48,592; Assn. of American Railroads, $45,567; International Assn. of Machinists (AFL-CIO), District Lodge 44, $42,920; National Housing Conference, $38,174; National Federation of Post Office Clerks (AFL-CIO), $36,534, and American Legion, $32,942.

The 38 citizen groups reporting said they spent $255,049. Eighteen farm organizations reported spending of $156,173. Seven military and veteran groups reported $46,639 and 15 professional organizations reported $168,136.

Asks Some Questions

Dear Mr. Editor:

Just to add more fuel to the fire in regard to the East Stroudsburg sewer system, I too have a few questions I would like answered.

During the past weekend I was in a town not too many miles from East Stroudsburg. A sewer line had recently been installed there. One line ran thru the center of the street and property owners on both sides of the street connected to the single line at a cost of $4 per foot.

To assure payment a lien was put on all properties. The property owners must pay the lien charge in addition to a yearly sewer charge and a service charge for lateral maintenance.

A recent article in the Daily Record stated an $8 per foot charge for East Stroudsburg sewer line. Now if a single line runs thru the street and both sides connect to this single line, according to my arithmetic we are paying not $8 per foot but $16 per foot, or am I using horse and buggy calculations for atomic age conditions? Here are some more questions.

1. Will East Stroudsburg put a sewer line on both sides of the street or a single line thru the center?
2. Will a lien be placed against our properties and will we be compelled to pay the lien charge?
3. Will we have an additional charge for lateral maintenance?
4. What is the real position of the owner of a corner lot? Will he be compelled to pay for lines on two streets even though he is only connected to one?
5. Will we have to pay the full amount upon completion of the hook-up, or will there be a predetermined initial payment, with the balance spread out in a series of monthly payments? If the cost is paid on the installment plan what rate of interest will we have to pay on the unpaid balance?

So far they have only estimated the cost of connecting to the sewer line. How about an estimate of what it will cost to dig ditches and lay from 50 to 100 or more feet of soil line from the waste outlets to the curb.

Then let's take a look at the future. Upon completion of this project, will the county commissioners and borough authorities say something like this?

"Well these Eastburgers have spent 1 or 2 thousand dollars, perhaps more to connect their properties to the sewer. That should increase the value of their property. We will have to reassess their property."

Naturally that would mean an increase in taxes.

Since I have mentioned tax as I would like to digress from the sewer problem. Due to the recent property appraisal program many people find themselves with a tax bill almost double their previous taxes, even though no additions or improvements have been made to their property for years. All about us we hear government leaders cry "stop inflation." How can we be stopped when they keep putting false values on things?

They say market values have gone up. Who besides the real estate agents and taxing authorities are interested in market values? I don't want to sell my house, I just want to live in it. And where might I ask the tax equalization they were talking about? If a homeowner wants to make an addition to his property he must get a permit to do so, and his property is reassessed and taxes increased.

He may spend $1,000 or more for something that is a definite asset to the community, but he is penalized by increased taxes, whereas the non-owner may go out and buy a new car which may cost 2 or 3 thousand dollars, without a permit, without a reassessment of property and no increase in taxes. That's not tax equalization, it's tax discrimination.

To get back to the sewer, which is probably where I will wind up in the end, the landlords and owners of business properties may be in favor of the sewer, but they will probably pass their cost on to their tenants and customers. Where is the home owner going for financial assistance?

Another yell for wage increases. Another step closer to complete inflation. How about those living on fixed pensions, or those without bargaining agents? If they have saved anything they will have to dig into it, if not they must suffer what the law decrees for them.

Perhaps there are other residents of E. Stroudsburg who have other questions concerning this sewer project. Ask them now. Let's get the whole picture and not the frame, or should I say frame-up? Are we being led or misled?

The country has gone spend crazy and tax crazy. Years ago there was a revolution against "taxation without representation." Will there be another one? This time against "taxation with misrepresentation."

Here's How It Works: A "clean" man without a record is put on the licenses of queer dives and bust-out joints and gets paid from $50 to $100 a week for the use of his name and from then on the real ownership is never looked into except perfunctorily... In addition to arrangements for the original organ, monthly "ice" runs from $350 a month on a small operation to $600 a month for resorts grossing up to $4,000 a week, and more in proportion... ## Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair Growing

The 42nd annual Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair will pass into history today. But, not before making its notch upon the community.

The present fair has played host to its largest entry of exhibitors despite the fact that rain on the first day turned the fair grounds into a sea of mud.

But, they're a hearty lot up there in Newfoundland, where the fair is held each year.

The rains fell on Tuesday night and again Wednesday night, the opening date of the fair. But, the workers were up and at 'em bright and early Thursday morning and by Thursday night they had the grounds in good condition.

The men, boys and even women worked hard to put the grounds in tip-top shape for Thursday night. The task appeared impossible Thursday morning, but this never-say-die crew had the job completed by the time darkness swarmed over the area.

Carroll Fetherman, president of the fair, revealed that 200 volunteer hours were spent this year to construct rest rooms and put the fair grounds in tip-top shape. Much material was donated for use in the various constructions and improvements.

It's truly a good sign when a fair is 42 years of age and continues to show signs of growth.

Western shows, rides and a growing midway add to the yearly success of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Fair.

Today is the closing day of the four day event and its the day on which the old folks take their bow. There will be picture taking and a special dinner for the Octogenarians and Gold Wedding Couples.

Quarter midget automobile races are on tap today and Pennsylvania's Honey Queen will be present.

There was horse shoe pitching and tractor driving yesterday. There has been something for every member of the family this year and its all to the credit of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Community Fair Assn.

Everyone is to be warmly congratulated.

The Allen-Scott Report

Drafts Enforcement Plans

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington—Labor Secretary James Mitchell is going to move swiftly to enforce provisions of the new labor reform legislation when it becomes law.

He has already mapped plans to use the new authority to launch a series of investigations of labor-management corruption that the Senate Labor Rackets committee is unable to look into for lack of time, money, and staff.

To launch this enforcement program, Mitchell is seeking $2,000,000 in extra funds from Congress before adjournment. And this request will only be a starter. In private talks with Senate Appropriation Committee members, Mitchell has estimated that the enforcement costs may run to $10,000,000 a year in 1960 and even higher in the future. He reported that his first request is just to get the program off the ground between now and Jan. 1.

Details of his enforcement plans are outlined in a memorandum sent to the committee by James R. Dodson, administrative assistant to the Secretary.

It reveals that Mitchell is establishing "regional offices" to handle his enforcement drive. These offices are to be located in major industrial centers. They are to serve as centers for the filing of financial reports required of labor unions, their officials, and business employers.

The memorandum outlines the vast new authority given

Mitchell and points out that the investigations are the first order of business. It states:

"The Labor Department must have adequate resources to move quickly."

ly to enforce the labor reform legislation when it becomes law. What we are asking for is $2,000,000 for enforcement operations until January 1. At that time, we will submit a much larger and detailed budget.

"The most crucial as well as the most constructive area of the activity will relate to investigations of alleged violations of the law. Volume in the initial stages of the administration is expected to be relatively heavy.

"For example, in its first year of existence the McClellan committee received 100,000 letters, many of which contained complaints of alleged improper activities. Prompt attention and effective enforcement action is planned in this field. A series of investigations will be undertaken immediately.

"Provisions of the legislation (as agreed to by Senate - House conferees) give the Secretary of Labor vast authority to investigate violations of the law by union and management officials."

He is given authority to conduct investigations whenever he believes it necessary to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate any provisions of this act or any rule or regulation authorized by the act. He is authorized to enforce various provisions by civil suits for injunctions and can investigate any complaints and bring civil actions on alleged violations of union election procedure."

"Sky Is Limit—The vast coverage of the new reform measure is indicated by the memorandum. It reports:

"The provisions of the legislation (as agreed to by House-Senate conferees) in the broadest sense covers some sixty million workers and several hundred thousand employers. In terms of specific protection and report obligations it covers 18,000,000 workers, 55,000 labor organizations, and 500,000 union officers and employers. In excess of 100,000 persons alone are subject to the conflict-of-interest reporting requirements."

Note: Chairman John McClellan (D. Ark.) has informed members of his Senate Labor Rackets Committee that he plans to ask the Senate to set up a permanent "watchdog" committee to police the enforcement of the labor reform law. Life of his committee expires on January 1, 1960.

Washington Pipeline—President Eisenhower will try to visit Marshal Zhukov on his trip to Russia. White House aides report he wants to see Zhukov on purely personal grounds—as an "old friend."

Ike last saw Zhukov at the 1955 Summit Conference in Geneva, where they exchanged family gifts and renewed their World War II friendship. Zhukov has been exiled to a town in the Ukraine since his banishment by Khrushchev. Whether the Kremlin will approve of the visit isn't known yet.

Chairman Harry Byrd (D. Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee, reports that Democratic Congressional leaders now support giving President Eisenhower authority to hike the interest rate ceiling on "E" and "H" government savings bonds before adjournment. The plan is to hike the present 3 1/2% interest rate ceiling to either 3 3/4% or 4%.

Give Dad A Chance

Dear Abby: I am planning a church wedding. I am afraid to have my father walk me down the aisle because he is a constant drinker and I don't think he could make it.

He lives at home but hardly anybody speaks to him. I know a bride should have her father give her away, but I don't want to take the chance of having him show up drunk and spoiling my wedding. How do I handle this problem?

BRIDE-TO-BE.

Dear Bride: Alcoholism is a sickness. Your father is sick and his family is certainly not helping him by refusing to speak to him. Perhaps if you told him that you'd be the happiest bride in the world if you could walk proudly down the aisle on his arm, he'd have an incentive to stay sober. Give him that chance—even if you have to have a favorite uncle or cousin standing in readiness as an alternate should your father disappoint you. You'll be doubly blessed for offering to honor your father in God's house.

Dear Abby: My husband got a promotion which means we have to move to upper New York State. I am very unhappy about it because I heard from a woman who once lived there that they are a very fast crowd.

She said the neighbors used to throw wild parties. One of their favorite games was for all the men to see their house keys into a hat. They'd pass the hat and each man would pick out a house key. He would go to spend the night at whichever house he had the key for. My husband says this is ridiculous, but my friend doesn't lie. Whom should I believe?

MOVING NORTH.
Dear Moving: Believe your husband. People who are interested in "games" like this one, wouldn't take a chance on getting their own wives.

Dear Abby: I am only 22 years old and my husband is 24. Last night he took a radio to bed with him to listen to the baseball game.

We have been married only ten months. I am afraid my marriage is falling apart. Can you tell me what to do?

AFRAID.
Dear Afraid: Be glad your "competition" is nine men instead of one woman. Many happily married men like baseball. It doesn't mean your marriage is "falling apart." Don't whine, nag or act hurt. Just stay right in there and pitch.

Washington Street Open For Weekend Traffic

WASHINGTON St. in East Stroudsburg was opened to traffic yesterday and Brown St. was closed, the office of the contractor reported.

The J. R. Nisley Co. workers have laid a coating of fine gravel over the large stone foundation for the new street and traffic is presently passing over this prior to its being covered by asphalt.

Since this cover material is dusty, three men will be employed by the firm to remain over the weekend and wet down the surface to keep the dust from spreading.

In addition, it was reported that the east side of the new bridge will have concrete laid at the end of this month. This does not mean, however, that traffic will be allowed across the bridge until this concrete has had time to thoroughly harden.

Curbing and additional street surfaces must also be made before the entire job is finished.

Section Deleted From Highway Bill

WASHINGTON—A declaration of congressional intent to compensate states for interstate highways built without federal aid was deleted from the roads bill approved Thursday by the House.

The vote against the provision carried by a 178-98 margin. House refusal to reimburse the states for certain toll roads on other interstate highways was regarded as a severe blow to some states, notably Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and California, which have spent more than six billion dollars without federal aid on roads that are now a part of the interstate system.

Cost Percentages

The Federal Government pays 90 per cent of the cost of interstate highways now under construction and the states 10 per cent.

The main bill, which increases the federal gasoline tax one cent a gallon to maintain the interstate program on a the House, 243-162.

It is designed to permit continued construction of the 41,000-mile system of limited-access roads at a rate close to present schedules for at least two years.

E.S. Businessmen Plan To Protest

Action Stems From Lack Of Bus Service

EAST Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. is sending a letter of protest to the Public Utility Commission regarding the discontinuance of service to East Stroudsburg by the Greyhound Bus Co.

The matter was discussed Thursday night at the association's monthly dinner meeting at Green Lantern Tearoom.

David Bernbaum, president, directed the secretary, Albert Koster, to send the letter of protest since previous communications directed to the bus company have gone unanswered.

One man, who declined the use of his name, said he understood Greyhound dropped the service into East Stroudsburg because of torn-up highways at two approaches to the community.

The businessmen felt that this was only a temporary condition which would be remedied upon completion of the interborough bridge and the first phase of the Stroudsburgs Thruway.

Fearful

The businessmen fear the discontinuance of bus service may become permanent unless their association and other residents of the community protest to the PUC.

In another action, Jay Sleep outlined a new plan his committee worked out for Christmas lights this year. Instead of the usual lightpole lights, it was decided to erect four community Christmas trees to be located strategically at various points in the borough.

The present lights will be used for lighting the trees. The committee, Sleep said, also has plans for other types of Christmas lighting which will be worked out in the near future.

The association voted to erect a sign at the new Route 90 bridge near Anasomink directing motorists to the East Stroudsburg business section. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Oct. 1.

House Passes Community College Bill

HARRISBURG—The House recently passed the community college bill which will allow any school district or combination of districts to establish a community college.

The bill, which carried a $300,000 appropriation, will let a combination of school districts in one or several counties band together to sponsor a college.

Existing Facilities

There would be no new construction. Existing facilities available in high schools, state teachers colleges and other public buildings would provide the housing during hours they are not in use for the purpose they were built for. The same applies to facilities.

Academic and technical courses would be taught, or the two might be integrated. There would be no dormitories or on-campus students. They would be commuters between their homes and the colleges.

What the students would acquire is two years of formal college education at minimum expense. They would then be eligible for admission to institutions of higher learning for their junior and senior years.

The commonwealth would pay $50 per student for each semester. The school district or districts could levy a special tax up to four mills for support for the colleges.

FIRST PLACE IN COUNTY KITCHEN TOUR—was voted to the kitchen of Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, 116 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, by the viewers who took the tour sponsored by the Business and Professional Woman's Club for the benefit of Laurel Manor, home for the aging. The committee estimates that some 600 tour tickets were sold. Designed by Mrs. Jones, the kitchen was ten years in the planning. The egg-crate ceiling over the working section of the kitchen makes interesting light patterns and distinguishes it from the living section of the room (not shown). Aqua, brick and birchwood form the color scheme. Notable are the barbecue grille, the steam oven which can keep the doctor's dinner for eight hours, the raised fireplace and the view of a bit of country in the center of town.

SECOND PLACE—was won by the kitchen of Mrs. John A. LaBar Jr. on Reish Farm Road outside of Stroudsburg. Coral red country print wall-paper is combined with gray ceramic tile for the walls, and the floor is of giant black and white squares. Hitchcock chairs and a hobnail milk glass lamp that pulls down over the table add a traditional note. There were 25 kitchens included in the tour and each of the kitchens was somebody's favorite in the voting. Mrs. Betty Noack, chairman, announced after the committee had tallied up the votes. Three cash prizes were provided by the club for the three top winners and an additional two prizes were awarded the fourth and fifth place homes.

THIRD PLACE went to the kitchen of Mrs. John C. Mullens, 514 Brown St., Stroudsburg, shown here checking on the casserole in the wall oven. Wood-panelling, H-bar hinges, antique hanging lamps converted to electricity, captain's chairs and braided rug add old-fashioned charm, while lowered doors fold back to reveal the laundry area of the kitchen. Mrs. Mullins' kitchen won first place in a similar tour sponsored some years ago by the Woman's Club. Fourth place in the voting went to the kitchen of Mrs. Frank L. Patterson's home on Dreher Ave., and fifth place to the kitchen of Mrs. James Kester, 111 Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg. The voting was widely scattered and there was no kitchen which did not receive votes as somebody's favorite.

Just Between Us —

—by Bobby Westbrook

One Labor Day traffic hazard nobody mentioned was the spectacular sunset with which the Taconas ushered in the holiday last night. You went driving along in a rosy glow with pink clouds, pink houses, pink roads, and a general feeling of being part of a Chamber of Commerce publicity release.

Floating along like an angel on a little pink cloud, it was like, and that's what you might very well be doing if you don't watch out. However, trusting that everybody has arrived safely, let's hope we have three more days just like yesterday for their delight.

Delight was the expression which lighted the faces of local residents, preparing to bump over the construction on Brown Street, when they discovered that Washington Street was open again.

And not only that, but the bumps leading to the new concrete section at what used to be Hauserville Corners have also been smoothed. Now if they can only put a surface on the rock-pile road up the hill, the residents of Shawnee, Franklin Hill and Minisink Hills can rejoice the county.

I suppose the East Stroudsburg borough council is wise in asking that the completed first section of the Thru-way be kept closed until the second section is started, but the state better get busy with bids or they will have a lot of aggravated taxpayers getting more aggravated every time they see that beautiful, empty, million-dollar Road to Nowhere.

Of course we could use it for roller-skating derbies, flood it

Fritts Family Reunion At Spruce Run

Installation Schedule Announced

Officers will be installed at the Effort Rebekah Lodge on Oct. 8; at the Rachel Broadhead Rebekah Lodge, Stroudsburg, on Oct. 9; and at the Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge, Stroudsburg, on Oct. 10. Tentative plans were made to attend the district meeting at Shickshinny on the afternoon and evening of Oct. 30. Further plans will be made at the next regular meeting of the Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge to be held at the lower Tannersville lodge hall on Wednesday night, Sept. 16.

In winter for ice skating, and adapt the cloverleafs for six-day bicycle races. However, the most logical possibility—and the most remote—would be to use it to drive on to relieve traffic congestion between the two towns.

Who's logical? Newspaper people, of course, who are the only ones unlucky enough to have to labor on Labor Day.

Fellowship Maps Attitude Toward School

Newfoundland—"The Importance of Christianity in Education" was discussed by Arthur Frey, South Sterling, during the final Summer worship session of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship held at the Moravian Church.

"You are to be an example of good, Christian living," he told the members, "and you must remember to maintain the proper attitude at school." Urging the young people to be diversified in both studies and hobbies, he noted that "the horizons of the world are coming closer, but as they do, the horizons of the mind must broaden."

The worship service was led by Joan Bancroft. Donna Bartleson provided the organ accompaniment for group singing.

During an informal business session, the group approved September 13 as the beginning of regular Fall land Winter meetings, and planned a snack supper at the South Sterling WSCS Hall for that night, beginning at 6 p. m.

The first Fall executive committee meeting will be held on September 18 at the home of Jane Beehn at 7:30 p. m.

The Wyckoff Shopper

PROGRESS is the word at Wyckoff's, and we aren't referring particularly to that which our store has been making for approximately 85 years. We're talking about a girdle, by Whirl-Eze. The name Whirl-Eze is new with us, but promises to be big and important, just as it is in many fine stores across our country. The PROGRESS girdle is quite revolutionary. I'm told, and has the added distinction of eliminating boning, yet giving the figure the full benefit of the most skilled staving, thanks to soft, comfortable Plastifoam.

In order that our Wyckoff customers may be properly introduced to this phenomenal garment, our corset buyer, Betty Colvin, has arranged to have Whirl-Eze consultant, Miss Kathryn Martin, as our guest at Wyckoff's next Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. She will gladly assist the ladies in finding the proper garment to solve their foundation problems, and we hope to introduce her to our radio audience on Wednesday morning at 9:15. Stay tuned to PROGRESS... for, at the moment, in our Wyckoff corset department, PROGRESS is our most "slimimportant" product.

While we're temporarily visiting the corset department, we might call attention to the pretty little red jiny bags, just the right size to hold cosmetics, that are being given free with every sale of a Gossard girdle and bra. These American Airline miniature bags, are lettered on one side, "Flight Light" by Gossard. A flighty idea? No indeed... anything that calls attention to the fact that a firm, comfortable, figure-molding foundation is an absolute basic for wardrobe planning is down-to-earth sense.

Another girdle worthy of consideration as you market for your new Fall silhouette is the Figure Builder, an inexpensive, attractive garment priced at 5.99. This is our second repeat, due to customer approbation and requests. Figure Builder is styled of elastic mesh with a heavy satin panel center-back, a lighter weight nylon crepe panel center front, and spiral boning. This type of boning is comfortable yet highly efficient. In two lengths, Figure Builder comes in waist sizes 26 to 36.

Now let's skip over into the stationery department... (What's that?—Of course you can skip in a WYCKOFF girdle!)... and see the newest in Do It Yourself decorative items. By Plaque Craft, this latest idea is a black metal picture, numbered for painting, and sturdily framed in oak. These plaques come in three sizes and are boxed in pairs, 6x7, 2.49; 7x9, 2.98; 5x5, 1.98. Really three dimensional, these are charming, and each set comes with the necessary materials for its completion. Designs are varied... clowns, children, matadors, historical, floral, and provincial. Buy them for your youngsters to paint for Christmas giving... buy them to paint yourself in odd moments... buy them for shut-ins who are bored with reading or tv. They'll be welcome as gifts either unpainted or painted.

OFF THE RECORD

By Bob Clark

LONG BEACH, Calif.—This city of 327,000 people, led by the Century Club—a $100 a year membership organization—opened their arms to the Twin City Poconos, now-ousted entrants in the World Softball Tournament.

Lending of vehicles, a boat trip and other entertainment, plus forwarding an advance on their tournament gate receipts take, were just a few of the nice things done by Long Beach individuals.

They made the Poconos feel at home even to the extreme of officially offering them the keys to the city.

And all the boys from Manager Ray Davies down appreciated the efforts of these backers of the world classic.

But this was all the ball club, representing the state of Pennsylvania and the Pocono Mountains, cared to remember about the hospitality of this Southern California resort section.

The teams didn't treat the Poconos like friends who came 3,600 miles to see their kinfolks. In fact these southwesterners and mid-westerners were down-right cruel. They held our softball pride and joys runless in two games and limited them only to four hits, including three in the opening 2-0 setback to El Paso, Tex., and one in the 7-0 loss to Rock Island, Ill.

No wonder there was little affection coming from Twin City. After all, taking your lumps in two straight contests isn't the best prescription prescribed for winning friends.

Seriously though, the Poconos marvelled at the type of opposition. In Huerto Lopez, the Texan with the Mexican handicap, Twin City saw a pretty fair country hurler. Only Twin City's Tommy Lind, a pitcher by trade, was able to solve his slants to any degree, getting two of the three allowed by Lopez.

In their second and final duel, Twin City came up against Jim Boender, a side-arming, windmill-type chucker who had them swinging long before the ball started plateward. Boender, it later was learned, had pitched a 25-inning effort the year before in the World playoffs and earlier in his career had twirled for Eastman Kodak, the cream of the crop in Eastern softball circles for many years.

The Poconos met two of the best in the softball trade. They hung on as much as their limited ability permitted them. However, they were ones to admit in unison that the Texas and Illinois squads were just too much to cope with.

To give Texas and Illinois earned recognition their states are well represented at the internationally-flavored event. But to take away some of their lustre, the southwesterners and mid-westerners are not the teams to beat. Holloman Air Force Base of New Mexico and Long Beach, defending champs, appear to have too much class.

Both are dotted with either minor league or ex-major league players. Particularly Long Beach which has prominent big leaguers of a few years back in Lou Novikoff of the Chicago Cubs, and Jack Randall of the old St. Louis Browns. One of their hurlers is Roy Zimmerman who used to kick the extra points for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Long Beach has everything—pitching, hitting and defense. With the tourney still having three days left, it wouldn't be surprising to hear the Californians had repeated.

They already have captured five world championships. It shouldn't be hard to make it Number Six. Even with this top-flight competition the Poconos were not too far out of place. Experience in such affairs was one thing Twin City lacked. Also missing was a sustained attack to meet such formidable pitching.

Perhaps if the Poconos had the good fortune of taking on the likes of Tijuana, Mexico, or Las Vegas, Nev., they might have gone further. But this wasn't in the books and from the time they had only five hours rest before taking on El Paso through the duel with Rock Island, Manager Davies guided crew had two strikes against them.

There wasn't a remote chance, it seemed, of the Poconos getting a win in the 18-team tournament. Not that they were second raters in a first class joint but because there were too many obstacles they had to overcome. The law of averages just were against them, that's all.

The people of the Stroudsburgs who raised the money to pick up a great part of their expenses got their money's worth. The team acted and performed like champions of Pennsylvania. Unfortunately there were better kinglyms from other states.

Keep Public Up To Date On All Sports, 'Hill' Aim

A STEPPED UP plan devised to keep the general public informed on all sports activities at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College was revealed yesterday at a press-school faculty luncheon at ESSTC's cafeteria.

East Stroudsburg Teachers' president Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler welcomed the visiting newsmen and radio broadcasters and outlined the assets and problems confronting the athletic department of the school on the "hill."

Yesterday's informal convale, dealing mostly with football, was strictly a question and answer session designed to bring better press relations with the school.

Head football coach Dr. John Gregory unveiled his Warriors eleven in the morning in special exercises and later let the grid candidates pose for pictures and give interviews.

At the noon luncheon Dr. George Ockershausen, newly named director of athletics, presented the proposed plan to keep newspapers and radio stations "up" on the latest sports developments at ESSTC.

Also Present
Eugene Martin, dean of men; Mort Hochheiser, Frank Grimm, and Jim Reed, assistant football coaches; Dr. Frank Sills, head of the department of health and physical education; and Sumner Wells, business manager.

The Daily Record was represented by Jim Riley, city editor; Rod MacLeod, chief photographer; Bob Stewart, reporter, and Bob Clark, sports editor.

Warrior Eleven Has New Look

DECKED out in complete new uniforms, East Stroudsburg Teachers varsity football squad unveiled its new look to the press at an informal gathering of newspapermen and radio broadcasters yesterday on the Warriors gridiron.

Generalized by new head football coach Jack Gregory, ESSTC's 1959 grid candidates showed offensive patterns which will be used this season. Included in the Gregory-designed attack were such maneuvers as the "T" and "I" formations with their single and double wing variations. Also under observation were the single and double wing offenses, plus passing and punting setups.

Clad in white uniforms and helmets with stripes in various parts, ESSTC, led by '59 co-captains quarterback John Brunner and center Dick Zimmer, revealed real zip in going through their minutely timed paces for the scribes and airwave men.

Show Skill
Coach Gregory, with the help of signal-caller Gary Rumberger, maneuvered four full eleven through intricate formations on counts.

Gregory, aided by assistants Frank Grimm (backfield coach), Jim Reed (ends), and Mort Hochheiser (interior line), are sending the "Hill" squad through two workouts daily. Jack Cassebaum, another Warrior grid hopeful, is listed as an East Stroudsburg resident but is not a graduate of East Stroudsburg High.

Wolslayer, Frank Lupin and Shaffer are Warrior letter-winners. Charley Lupin and Cole are freshmen at the "Hill" institution.

Close With 'Show Boat'

MOUNTAINHOME — "Show Boat," the immortal and magnificent Broadway musical will be the closing attraction for the 1959 season here at Pocono Playhouse.

Contrary to the usual procedure followed in the past of having the first performance of a show on Monday night, "Show Boat" will make its first bow to Playhouse patrons on Tuesday, instead.

This change in the date of opening was made by Rowena Stevens, producer-manager of Pocono Playhouse, at the request of many regular first-nighter patrons who find it impossible to attend the performance on Labor Day.

To replace the Monday night performance, a special "Sunset" performance of "Show Boat" has been scheduled for Sunday afternoon, Sept. 13th, at 4 p.m., so that opportunity will be given to everyone to see the musical.

Tickets and reservations held by persons for the Monday night, Sept. 7, performance may be exchanged for another night by phoning LY 5-7456, or by calling at the Playhouse box-office.
